Water

July can be hot and dry in Southern Louisiana. Monitor your local weekly rain. Be sure to water trees, lawn and shrubs deeply at least once a week. Watering deeply; encourages a strong root system. The ideal time to water is early morning or early evening. Keep an eye on plants near or directly under larger trees. These larger trees can absorb a majority of the moisture.

- Avoid pruning your trees and shrubs.
- Avoid digging or transplanting during the heat.
- Avoid planting larger tree as it is hard to regulate their water.
- Apply 2" of mulch around trees and shrubs to retain moisture.
- Don't over water. It can be just as harmful as lack of water.

Mosquito Problem?!?

Apply Mosquito Beater to your yard or gardens. The all natural formula will repel mosquitoes, gnats and flies for up to two weeks. Great for parties or family gatherings.

Pleasantly scented and easy to apply. Contains cedar oil, citronella, and geranium oil and lemongrass oil.
